

Group's Organizational Structure

The Group has an organizational structure headed by the Board of Directors and supported by the Executive Management. The Board assumes the ultimate responsibility for the general direction, supervision, and control of the Group and the Executive Management.

The following chart sets out the organizational structure of the Group:

